TV Media

Next year marks the 20th anniversary of one of the most groundbreaking achievements in cinema history. The first chapter in J.R.R. Tolkien's epic Middle-Earth trilogy, "The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring," was released in late 2001 to critical and commercial acclaim. After decades of failed bigscreen adaptions, the fantasy series was eventually brought to life by Peter Jackson ("They Shall Not Grow Old," 2018) and forever changed the Hollywood landscape.

But there are many works of Tolkien that have never received the Hollywood treatment, works that are arguably just as important and relevant as the Lord of the Rings series. There are many authors in this same boat, and one of the most notable is Jane Austen. "Pride and Prejudice" has been recreated hundreds of times for television, the big screen and the stage (the 1995 BBC production has yet to be topped, in my opinion). "Emma," "Sense and Sensibility," "Mansfield Park," "Persuasion" — all of these wonderful novels have been adapted in some form for global audiences. But Austen's "Sanditon" has been largely ignored by the film and television industries.

Admittedly, an unfinished book, even by one of the most popular writers in history, doesn't seem like an obvious choice for a TV adaptation. But on Sunday, Jan. 12, PBS will take you back to the Regency era and introduce you to some wonderfully colorful characters as "Sanditon" comes to life on PBS as part of its "Mastepiece" program.

After the great success of last year's "Les Misérables," legendary scribe Andrew Davies has once again set his sights on a lofty work from one of the greatest and most influential authors of all time. When Austen came down with a mysterious illness in 1817, she decided to take her mind off her failing health and focus her attention on something lighthearted and cheery: she began work on "Sanditon." Unfortunately, she never finished her witty novel and died only months after starting.

In this "Masterpiece" adaptation, the lively, impulsive and unconventional Charlotte Heywood (Rose Williams, "Reign") makes her way from her rural home of Willingden to the coastal fishing village of Sanditon. Thanks to a serendipitous mishap, the ambitious Tom Parker (Kris Marshall, "Death in Paradise") makes the acquaintance of the respectable Heywood family and invites their eldest daughter, Charlotte, for an extended stay at Sanditon. There, she attempts to reinvent herself as she is exposed to a world of intrigue, dalliances, high society and colorful characters, like the mysteriously charming and brooding Sidney Parker (Theo James, "Divergent," 2014), Tom's brother. Naturally, sparks fly between the adventure-seeking Charlotte and dapper-yet-unpredictable Sidney, and like all great romantic stories, many obstacles stand in the way of their relationship.

Over the course of the eightepisode limited series, we are introduced to a bevy of curious and unpredictable characters that Charlotte could never imagine meeting back home. As Tom, a kind family man, works towards his dream of transforming the sleepy seaside village into something bigger and better, the townspeople do not always cooperate. He hopes to turn the village into a fashionable health resort and partners with the wealthy Lady Denham (Anne Reid, "The Aeronauts," 2019), a twice-widowed woman who lives with her ward, Clara Brereton (Lily Sacofsky, "Summer of Rockets").

While promoting the series last year, writer Davies discussed what brought him to the project but also what viewers could expect: "Jane Austen managed to write only a fragment of her last novel before she died — but what a fragment. 'Sanditon' tells the story of the transformation of a sleepy fishing village into a fashionable seaside resort, with a spirited young heroine, a couple of entrepreneurial brothers, some dodgy financial dealings, a West Indian heiress and quite a bit of nude bathing. It's been a privilege and a thrill for me to develop

"Sanditon" into a TV drama for a modern audience."

On the surface, the period piece might seem like your typical costume drama, but there is much more to it. As The Guardian put it, the partially completed novel is a strange fiction about encroaching modernity in the industrial age and, more specifically, a seaside resort on the Sussex coast. Readers of "Sanditon" can attest that it is indeed a strange and compelling bit of fiction worth adapting into a bold and lavish series.

With that said, the adaptation process has not been an easy one.

ITV, the British network that originally aired the series last fall, decided to use the unfinished source material as the basis of only the premiere episode. Davies used Austen's incomplete work as a launching pad for the rest of the episodes.

As with all adaptions, some fans of the source material will not be happy, and while "Sanditon" is already a huge hit overseas, it's also a source of great controversy and debate. Tune in to the dazzling period piece to find out why when "Sanditon" premieres Sunday, Jan. 12, on PBS.

The Pioneer Woman

FOOD 10:00 a.m.

Host Ree Drummond spends this new episode focusing on her fatherin-law, Chuck. With the help of the family, Ree tends to the cattle in order to lessen Chuck's load before treating him to a dinner of his favorites.

The Princess Bride

АМС 1:30 р.т.

A not-so-typical fairy tale comes to life for a sick boy whose grandfather reads to him in this hit movie based on the novel of the same name. A pirate (Cary Elwes) rushes to rescue his long lost love (Robin Wright) from the clutches of an evil prince.

Wendi McLendon-Covey stars in "The Goldbergs"

AFC Divisional

wbtw (3) 8:00 p.m.

Find out who is going to the Superbowl this year as one team is decided in this NFC Championship game. It's been a tight race between the New Orleans Saints, the San Francisco 49ers, the Green Bay Packers and the Seattle Seahawks, but it's anyone's game.

The Goldbergs

WTVD (1) WPDE (15) 9:00 p.m.

Things don't go as planned when Barry (Troy Gentile) decides to rush a fraternity in this rebroadcast. Meanwhile, Beverly (Wendi McLendon-Covey) takes on more hobbies, and Murray (Jeff Garlin) watches more TV as a way of coping with being empty nesters.

WHAT'S NEW ON NETFLIX

"Grace and Frankie" Season 6 On Wednesday, Jan. 15, Jane Fonda ("Book Club," 2018) and Lily Tomlin ("Web Therapy") return in Season 6 of this Emmy-nominated series. The show follows the lives of Grace (Fonda) and Frankie (Tomlin), whose lives have been upturned since they discovered that their husbands are gay and have been lovers for decades. At the end of Season 5, we saw Grace marry Nick (Peter Gallagher, "The O.C."), and she and Frankie contemplated how different their lives would be had they not decided to live together after the big revelation. The new season is sure to feature tensions as a result of Grace's new marriage, and showrunner Marta Kauffman has hinted that Frankie may rekindle her relationship with ex-boyfriend Jacob (Ernie Hudson, "L.A.'s Finest").

"Sex Education" Season 2 Asa Butterfield ("The Space Between Us," 2017) returns in Season 2 of this dramedy premiering Friday, Jan. 17. He plays socially awkward Otis Milburn, whose mother, Jean (Gillian Anderson, "The X-Files"), is a sex therapist. Since his mother is a sex therapist, Otis is well versed in awkward situations and has more knowledge about sex than the average teenager. He becomes the unofficial sex therapist for his fellow classmates when Maeve (newcomer Emma Mackey) sees his knowledge as a financial opportunity and begins finding him clients. The series serves as a coming-ofage tale for a number of characters, whether it's Otis' girlfriend Ola (Patricia Allison, "Les Misérables"), Eric (Ncuti Gatwa, "Stonemouth"), who is struggling with his homosexuality and religion, Lily (Tanya Reynolds, "Delicious"), a frustrated virgin, or Jackson (Kedar Williams-Stirling, "Wolfblood"), the golden boy trying to get a girlfriend. Season 1 dealt with so many issues (bullying, masturbation, LGBTQ, abortion, drugs, etc.), and Season 2 won't shy away from anything as Otis copes with his newly discovered sexual urges and tries to make his new relationship work, and everyone at school faces an outbreak of chlamydia, putting the "clinic" in high demand.

Lily Tomlin in "Grace and Frankie"

"Kipo and the Age of Wonderbeasts'

On Tuesday, Jan. 14, catch the premiere of this animated comedy . series that has a similar feel to "Futurama" with a little "Alice in Wonderland" mixed in. The series follows Kipo (voiced by Karen Fukuhara, "The Boys"), a curious girl who has spent her life living in an underground burrow since the Great Mutant Outbreak, an event that caused creatures (animals, bugs, etc.) to become giant and develop intelligence, forcing humans underground. When a mutant attack leaves her stranded above ground, she sets out to find her father and make her way home, befriending a motley crew of humans and mutants along the way. Kipo quickly develops survival skills when she realizes that, while the creatures are oddly adorable, a lot of them also want all humans dead. The show features the voices of Sterling K. Brown ("This Is Us"), Deon Cole ("Black-ish"), Dan Stevens ("Legion") and Lea DeLaria ("Orange Is the New Black"), and you won't want to miss this new comedy.

Tanya Reynolds and Patricia Allison in "Sex Education"

"The Healing Powers of Dude" In the past few years, awareness and understanding of mental health disorders has grown, and there have been an increasing number of these issues represented in the entertainment world. On Monday, Jan. 13, this series filled with heart and humor that also presents the realities of living with anxiety premieres. "The Healing Powers of Dude" centers on Noah Ferris (newcomer Jace Chapman), an 11-year-old boy whose crippling social anxiety makes even simple activities feel impossible. After years of being homeschooled (for obvious reasons), Noah tells his parents that he wants to try going to middle school and hopefully make friends with people he's not related to. Proud of their son's bravery, they agree, but to help him through all he's about to face, they get him a scruffy emotional support dog named Dude (voiced by Steve Zahn, "Treme"). Dude may be sarcastic, have a mild addiction to treats and a short attention span, but he and Noah may just be the perfect pair.

"Tyler Perry's A Fall From Grace" (2020)

The multi-talented Tyler Perry (creator of the Madea movie franchise) makes his Netflix film debut this Friday, Jan. 17, with the premiere of his new thriller, "A Fall From Grace." The film follows a divorced woman ("Empire"), Bresha Webb ("Sextuplets," 2019) and Cicely Tyson ("The Help," 2011).

"Troop Zero" (2020)

On Friday, Jan. 17, catch this hilarious and inspiring film when it comes to Prime Video. McKenna Grace ("Gifted," 2017) stars as "human-female" Christmas Flint. an abnormal young girl living in Georgia in the late '70s who dreams of life in outer space. When she finds out that NASA will be recording a message for the Voyager spacecraft at the Birdie Scout Jamboree, she is desperate to be a part of it, but she can't since she's not a Scout and the local troop won't let her join. She creates her own troop of outsiders. starting with her best friend, Joseph (Charlie Shotwell, "Eli," 2019), even though he's a boy (there's nothing in the rule book that says you have to be a girl). Hilarity ensues as the two troops and their leaders — the laid-back Miss Rayleen (Viola Davis, "How to Get Away with Murder") and the pretentious Miss Massey (Allison Janney, "Mom") — clash as they fight to qualify for the jamboree and prove that there's nothing wrong with being different. Don't miss this one, available Friday.

does Perry act as producer for this project, he also appears in the film alongside an all-star cast that includes Crystal Fox ("The Haves and the Have Nots"), Phylicia Rashad

WFXB 43 8:00 p.m.

When a hazardous waste truck crashes inside a tunnel, a deadly fire erupts in this rebroadcast. Meanwhile, the 118 rushes to an apartment building that was hit by debris from a meteor shower. Peter Krause, Angela Basset and Jennifer Love Hewitt star.

Freddie Highmore stars in "The Good Doctor"

Live Rescue

A&E 9:00 p.m.

Veteran journalist Ashleigh Banfield hosts as firefighters, paramedics and EMTs across the United States respond to emergency calls in this docuseries. Cameras follow the first responders as they bravely put their lives on the line to help others.

The Good Doctor

Freddie Highmore stars in a new episode of this dramedy as the young Dr. Shaun Murphy, an autistic savant striving to prove his ability to older, more experienced colleagues. He has spent this season taking on the world of dating for the first time.

Thursday Best Bets

The Conners

WTVD 1 WPDE 5 8:00 p.m.

Dan Conner (John Goodman) and his family deal with financial pressures, parenthood, aging and more in this comedy about workingclass Americans. Through it all, the Conners stick together and support one another with love and humor.

Supernatural

wwмв (21) 8:00 p.m.

In an attempt to get a step ahead of Chuck (Rob Benedict), Dean (Jensen Ackles) and Castiel (Misha Collins) agree to work together in this new episode. Elsewhere, Sam (Jared Padelecki) and Eileen (Shoshannah Stern) learn a harsh truth.

Jensen Ackles, Misha Collins and Jared Padalecki in a scene from "Supernatural"

Last Man Standing

WFXB 43 8:00 p.m.

Kristin (Amanda Fuller) and Mandy (Molly Ephraim) don't want to take part in Kyle's (Christoph Sanders) HR orientation in this new episode. Elsewhere, Mike (Tim Allen) struggles to find a good business anniversary gift for Vanessa (Nancy Travis).

Everything's Gonna Be Okay FREE 8:30 p.m.

In this series premiere, Nicholas (Josh Thomas) is a 25-year-old who enjoys his lack of responsibility until his father is diagnosed with cancer and he must step up to care for his two young sisters Matilda (Kayla Cromer) and Genevieve (Maeve Press).

scotlandhospice.org

For more than 33 years, Scotland Regional Hospice has helped provide comfort and dignity to thousands of people in our community, allowing them to spend their final moments at home surrounded by their loved ones. Hospice uses a holistic approach when caring for the patient and their family, friends, and caregivers. Hospice care ensures that symptom management, therapies, and treatments all support a plan of care that is centered on the person's goals.
